The Manhattan School of Music Bachelor of Music in Piano Performance

A new piano instructor at Ware Academy of Music, Lu Wang is now accepting students. Acclaimed as “one of the 10 Promising Future Stars in China” by the People’s Daily News, pianist Lu Wang has established a career performing throughout the U.S., China, and Europe. His concretizing career has brought him to many prestigious halls, including Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center, New York’s Steinway Hall, Hong Kong’s Performing Arts Center, People’s Palace in Beijing, Beijing Central Concert Hall, and Xinghai and Shanghai Music Halls. In 2000, he was invited to play recitals at the Glinka Choir College and Chamber Music Concerts at the Composers’ Union in St. Petersburg, Russia. His establishments in China include collaborations with China’s National Symphony, the National Ballet, Shanghai Symphony Orchestra, Shanghai Radio Symphony Orchestra and the Guangzhou Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Wang received many awards and scholarships in his native China as well as in the United States. Those include First Prizes in the 13th Hong Kong International Open, Stravinsky International Competition, Woodmere Music, and China’s National Piano Competitions. Mr. Wang made his debut at age 8 with Shanghai Conservatory Symphony and in the same year recorded his first commercial CD under the Singapore Recording Label.

At present, Mr. Wang studies in the prestigious Artist Diploma Program at the Peabody Conservatory with Yong Hi Moon. He holds a Bachelor’s Degree from The Manhattan School of Music, where he studied with Nina Svetlanova, and obtained his Master’s Degree from The Juilliard School under the tutelage of Yoheved Kaplinsky and Jerome Lowenthal. Mr. Wang has also worked with Ariel Vardi and attended piano workshop of Klaus Hellwig. Master classes he has played in include those of Leon Fleisher, Elisso Virsaladze, Karl Heinz Kammerling, Cecile Ousset, Stefano Fuizzi, Oxana Yablonskaya, Vladimir Feltsman, Christopher Elton, and Byron Janis. During the summers, he has participated in festivals such as Music Academy of the West, the Cliburn/TCU Young Artist Program, Bowdoin International Music Festival., Piano Fest and Hamamatsu International Academy.

Born in 1982 in China, Mr. Wang started studying piano at age four with his mother. He then continued his studies with Zeng Ming Qiang in the preparatory division of the Shanghai Conservatory. At age 9, Mr. Wang was accepted on a full scholarship to the Shanghai Conservatory of Music to study under Wang Jiang Zhong, Yang Yan Ru, and Wu Ying. In his free time, Mr. Wang enjoys teaching piano to young students. He has taught master classes in HangZhou and Taian Universities, China. His performances are regularly broadcast on TV and radio stations in China.
