Parent and Teacher Partnership: Parents ensure study time is allocated daily. Parents check the weekly tests to verify passing grades. By enrolling your son/daughter into a theory class, parents agree to assist memorization and retention of facts and procedures. Completing homework practice sheets incorrectly has no value. If the student is unable to memorize or retain information, do not take theory. For harmony classes the homework assignments are required. Doing the homework assignments, allow students to gain facility to complete the in person 3 hour final exam in time to check, and pass.

Registration: Parents are responsible for registering students for the examinations by the deadline and paying examinations fees.

Mock Exams: Parents ensure that students complete Mock Exams by the teacher's deadline.

Attendance: Attendance is essential. If a class is missed, students are responsible to complete homework according to lesson assignments. Students are encouraged to watch zoom class video and all are sent the link to a folder on the cloud.

Exams: Level 9-ARCT are university level classes with a three-hour written exam. History students must write essays for the exam. In harmony, they prepare to create a 16-bar composition (27 min) and harmonize a Bach chorale (54 min). Class attendance without substantial daily practice and memory will not yield results.

Private Lessons: For students who do not focus adequately or absorb material presented, private lessons with the instructor are recommended. Private lessons provide personalized clarification of procedures, but do not affect memorization of charts and information which is essential.

Homework: Read assigned pages, complete memorizations, and practice sheets. Homework planner at the front of the textbook.

Dismissal for Distracting/Disruptive Behavior: Students and parents need to ensure quiet concentration for zoom. When the student un-mutes themselves to speak, a noisy room is a distraction for all students.

Refunds: There are no refunds for theory classes or theory books.

Students who want to Retake a Class: Students who want to retake the class must pay again.

Please advise Teachers if there are any special issues surrounding your child in terms of learning disabilities, previous failures or other relevant situations that may affect class and test performance. Thank you for your co-operation,

Lynn and Peter Ware
