Ware Academy of Music: School Policy

Parents: Sign one copy and email with registration form to: wareacademyofmusic@gmail.com

Please ensure that your cell and work phone numbers and email are given on the registration form.

Parent and Teacher Partnership: Parents ensure study time is allocated daily. Parents check the weekly tests to verify passing grades. By enrolling your son/daughter into a theory class, parents agree to assist memorization and retention of facts and procedures. Completing homework practice sheets incorrectly has no value. If the student is unable to memorize or retain information, do not take theory.

RCM Registration: Parents are responsible for registering students for the RCM Examinations by the deadline and paying RCM Examinations fees.

Mock Exams: Parents ensure that students complete Mock Exams by the teacher's deadline.

Attendance: Attendance is essential. If a class is missed, students are responsible to complete homework according to lesson assignments. Students are encouraged to take private lessons for missed classes.

Exams: Level 9-ARCT are university level classes with a three-hour written exam administered by RCMusic. History students prepare 2500-word essays for the exam. In harmony, they prepare to create a 16-bar composition (27 min) and harmonize a Bach chorale (54 min). Class attendance without substantial daily practice and memory will not yield results. Unlike math classes, this is not covered in public education.

Private Lessons: For students who do not focus adequately or absorb material presented, private lessons with the instructor are recommended. Private lessons provide personalized clarification of procedures, but do not affect memorisation of charts and information which is essential.

Homework: Read assigned pages, complete memorizations and practice sheets. Homework planner at the front of the textbook.

Behavior: If students are seen (or reported) to be engaged in writing on desks or walls will be dismissed immediately.

Dismissal for Distracting/Disruptive Behavior: Talking out of turn or to other students while the instructor is talking or during the quiet test time, passing notes, texting on cell phones, doodling is not acceptable. If a student creates a distraction by any means, they will be dismissed for that day. We must respect students who are concentrating and have paid to hear the instructor.

There is no food in class. Throw drink cans and cups in the mall trashcans.

Refunds: There are no refunds for theory classes or theory books.

Students who want to Retake a Class: Students who want to retake the class must pay again.

Please advise Teachers if there are any special issues surrounding your child in terms of learning disabilities, previous failures or other relevant situations that may affect class and test performance.

Thank you for your co-operation,
Lynn and Peter Ware
